Inclusion, Participation and Community Spaces in Youth Work

25-28 May, 2026

Dublin, Ireland

This study visit aims to bring together youth workers from across Europe to explore these issues, visit youth organisations that have worked with young people in their communities to create these safe spaces, and gain the skills to influence change at a local level in partnership with young people.

Objectives of the study visit:

- To reflect on what young people are telling us about their communities · To explore relevant research in both an Irish and European context
- To understand the impact and social change that an Erasmus+ project can have within a community, by discovering the possibilities of local participation.
- To share best practices from within your organisations and communities
- To visit youth organisations to share practice in this area
- To embed inclusion and participation strategies within your work and learn how these can support creating safe spaces
- To explore how European opportunities can support youthwork, inclusion, and participation
- Explore potential projects under the Erasmus+ programme
- To allow finding good and reliable partners with whom to develop projects within the Erasmus+ Youth, creating a solid network of contacts and alliances.

Deadline to apply: 7 April, 2026
